

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

Relationship Skills

- Classroom and Advisory Videos
- Discussion Questions
- Self-Reflection Questions
- Lesson Plans

Experts with the Collaborative for Academic, Social and Emotional Learning (CASEL) confirm that social and emotional learning (SEL) is essential to the school and life success of all children. Why? Our emotions and relationships affect how and what we learn. Emotions can enable us to generate an active interest and sustain our engagement in learning. On the other hand, unmanaged stress and poor regulation of impulses interfere with attention and memory and contribute to behaviors disruptive to learning. Studies confirm SEL benefits including reductions in child aggression, substance abuse, delinquency, and violence; lower levels of depression and anxiety; and increased grades, attendance, and performance in core academic subjects.

This guide provides a suggested order for putting Connect with Kids social and emotional learning video resources, along with discussion questions and activities, to work in the elementary school classroom. Business experts call it “see-feel-change,” fueling action by sparking emotion. Connect with Kids calls it educating the heart: using the power of storytelling and peer-to-peer connections to create heart-felt associations. Research shows that children and adults who emotionally connect with an experience are more likely to make life-long behavioral change than those who just receive information about that experience. Students realize that they are not alone in their feelings and learn to trust their teachers, classmates and themselves as they navigate social and emotional challenges that naturally occur in the elementary school years.

Search for the program title to find video and print resources, which all stream 24/7 via your Connect with Kids WebSource website subscription or custom school website.

Questions?

Please contact Connect with Kids Client Support at 888.598.KIDS \(5437\) or email info@cwknetwork.com.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

Relationship Skills

Title	SEL Notes	Documentary Story Description
Video Short The Mentor Impact: Who Believes in You?	Guiding others, listening actively, and communicating clearly are all parts of being a mentor. Mentors can change lives, so it is important to have strong relationship skills.	Hear the story of George Kolonias, a former gang member, drug seller, and gun runner, and how a finding a mentor when he got out of prison inspired him to see and experience a different future.
Video Short The Importance of Attendance	Knowing when and who to ask for help is a skill that many students need in order to get on the right track. With most attendance issues stemming from problems at home, students need to know where they can go to get help.	Sometimes when kids miss school, it's the grown-ups in their lives that are the real problem.
Video Short Student Truancy	It's important for students to know when to ask for help and when to offer it to others. If they believe that they can be successful, but they need a little help to get back on their feet, they'll be able to achieve.	Watching this real story can help teens to understand the real consequences of skipping school. Encourage responsibility and planning for the future by helping kids to think about the positive outcomes of showing up and staying involved in school, every single day.
Video Short Asking for Help	In difficult situations, it is important to know who and when to ask for help.	Students, requesting help and sticking with it can make the difference between academic success and failure.
Single Topic Video Caring & Compassion	Being caring and compassionate towards others requires understanding of how others feel as well as being helpful when others face hardships.	Brandi Bratton and Marcus Peden act with compassion when they give up their time, space and privacy for the comfort of their live-in great-grandparents. Their caring nature has enabled them to love more and give more, instead of always waiting to receive.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

Relationship Skills

Title	SEL Notes	Documentary Story Description
Single Topic Videos Cooperation	Working together towards a common goal takes cooperation. It requires effective communication and the ability to solve conflicts respectfully.	Cooperation on stage and behind the scenes is critical to a play's successful run.
Single Topic Videos Helpfulness	Knowing when to offer help and how to offer it to others is important to build positive, healthy relationships.	Rene Cowan makes her friendship a foundation for help and support for those in need.
Single Topic Videos Loyalty	Being there for others and knowing how/when to offer help to friends and peers is a building block for strong, healthy relationships and loyalty.	A devastating house fire helped Michael Kudelka assess the loyalty of his friends.
Single Topic Videos Respect	Self-respect and respect for others is an important part of having strong, healthy relationships.	After experiencing months of imprisonment and physical and emotional abuse by her boyfriend, Theresa Densmore finally found the self-respect to "just walk away." Now Theresa's life has turned around as she tutors inner city children and uses her experiences to help others.
Single Topic Videos Togetherness	Working as a team towards a common goal requires cooperation, communication, and togetherness.	The cohesiveness of the Allstar Panthers cheerleading squad was tested when one of its members was injured during a competition. But with teamwork and cooperation, the squad adapted and overcame its challenges to perform its routine.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

Relationship Skills

Title	SEL Notes	Documentary Story Description
Single Topic Videos Trustworthiness	Having trust in each other is essential to solid relationships.	Because Kevin Lamar lost his sight at the age of 2, he must rely on the trustworthiness of strangers while also depending on his own instincts to guide him through life's challenges.
Video Shorts Overcoming Issues at Home	"Both parents and kids need to know that no matter what the problem is at home, there is someone at the school who can probably help." Students and parents need know where and how to seek help from those around them during tough times.	Watch this real story to help students understand the importance of attending school. Without passing judgment, get a conversation started to guide students to resources they can turn to for support despite challenges they may encounter at home.
Inside Out Cooperation	Cooperation is working together towards a common goal and focusing your actions on benefiting your community and others.	See kids band together to clean up their city and help the environmental effort to stop littering.
Civil Wars (Parts 1-5)	Being respectful towards others, thinking before acting, and solving conflicts with effective strategies are all important facets of civility.	Explore ideas about civility and courtesy that many kids have never thought or talked about before, which are the critical prerequisites to a change in behavior.
Video Short Finding a Mentor	Receiving and offering help when needed is necessary for building a strong mentoring relationship.	This video tells real stories about finding and being a mentor and its benefits.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

Relationship Skills

Title	SEL Notes	Documentary Story Description
CRE - Building Social Capital Being a Citizen of your Community	Knowing when/how to give or get help is an essential skill that each student needs to learn in order to build strong relationships with people. Being a mentor in your community is a great way to build these skills.	Ito recognizes that a lot of people made sacrifices for him, and he wants to be a responsible citizen and give something back to his community.
First Comes Love (Parts 1-4)	There are many pressures on teens today when it comes to dating but it is important to learn how to communicate with each other and develop a strong relationship with that person before making any big decisions about intimacy and sex.	FIRST COMES LOVE examines some of today's pressures regarding love and how teens view and define relationships and dating.
Video Shorts The Value of Grief Counseling	Providing students with resources that they can use to help deal with grief is extremely helpful during tough times.	When a tragedy occurs on a school campus, grief counselors often rush in to help. They encourage students to talk about their feelings, hoping to help them cope with the horrible things they've seen and heard. Some students say they get a lot out of grief counseling, even if they didn't think they would. Some say they don't benefit — and don't even like it. Conventional wisdom says it's unsafe to repress your feelings.